SETI scientists seek to determine through microwave and optical measurements whether humankind is alone in the universe. Since Congress terminated NASA's SETI funding in 1993, The SETI League and other scientific groups have been attempting to privatize the research. Experimenters interested in participating in the search for intelligent alien life, or citizens wishing to help support it, should visit us on the Web at <<http://www.setileague.org/>>, email to join@setileague.org, send a fax to +1 (201) 641-1771, or contact The SETI League, Inc. membership hotline at +1 (800) TAU-SETI. Be sure to provide us with a postal address to which we will mail further information. The SETI League, Inc. is a membership-supported, non-profit [501(c)(3)], educational and scientific corporation dedicated to the electromagnetic Search for Extra-Terrestrial Intelligence.

SETI League Vision

Recognizing that confirmed evidence of extraterrestrial intelligence will change forever our view of humanity's place in the cosmos, The SETI League, Inc. envisions a worldwide network of amateur and professional scientists working together to hasten our entry into the galactic community.

SETI League Mission

To encourage and support the Search for Extra-Terrestrial Intelligence by:

1. attracting a wide range of amateur and professional scientists into the SETI community;
2. developing technologies to assist the SETI experimenter in assembling a workable radio or optical SETI observatory;
3. disseminating hardware and software designs in support of SETI;
4. coordinating SETI experimenters worldwide in conducting a thorough sky survey;
5. providing a variety of forums and media for wide-ranging communication among SETI experimenters, enthusiasts, and organizations;
6. designing, assembling, and operating advanced optical and radio telescopes;
7. identifying and publicizing potential spin-off applications of SETI technologies; and
8. raising public consciousness as to the importance and significance of a broad-based Search for Extra-Terrestrial Intelligence that encompasses a variety of strategies.

Executive Director's Message

Dear SETI Supporters,

2002 has been perhaps the most challenging year faced by The SETI League since its inception in 1994, but it has also been a year of great technical accomplishment. The global economic downturn precipitated by the events of September 2001 has severely impacted the fundraising efforts of all nonprofit ventures, including The SETI League, Inc. Yet we continue to experience modest membership growth. More importantly, we have enjoyed a significant increase in the active, grass-roots participation of our members, which directly influences our ability to continue fulfilling our educational and scientific mission, despite an ongoing fiscal shortfall.

Upon the regrettable demise in 1998 of Orville N. Greene, the New York City patent attorney and civic activist who co-founded The SETI League, we were honored to receive a sizeable bequest from Mr. Greene's foundation. This most generous gift has formed the mainstay of The SETI League's budget for the past several years. Unfortunately, 2002 saw fully a ninety percent decrease in SETI League revenues other than membership dues and previously pledged support, necessitating a significant spend-down of our modest cash reserves. Your Board of Trustees and Officers have thus been devoting considerable energy during the past year to cost-containment and fundraising measures.

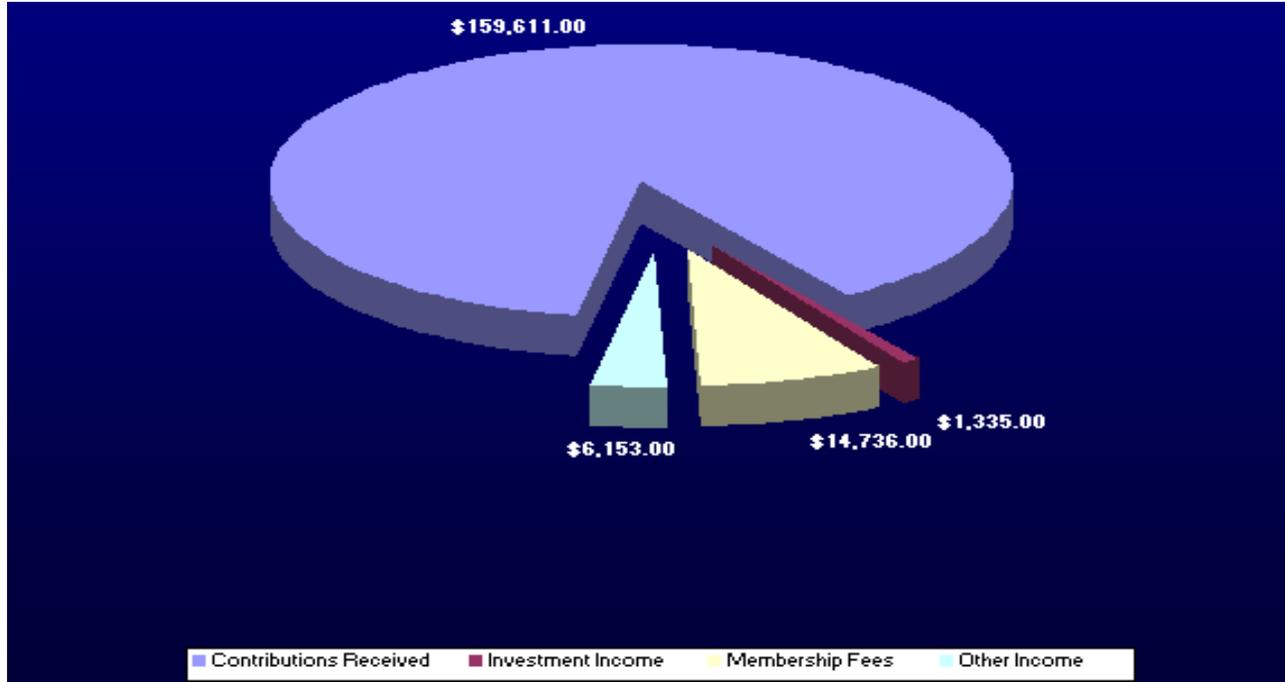

One measure which has modestly reduced our operating costs is a transitioning away from printing and postage, toward adopting electronic delivery means for SETI League press releases and other materials. It seems highly appropriate for an organization that seeks evidence of other civilizations through their electromagnetic communications to employ such means to fulfill its own internal communications needs! During the coming year, we anticipate delivering SearchLites, our quarterly newsletter, electronically to those of our members with the means to so receive it.

During 2002 The SETI League engaged in a search to secure professional fundraising assistance. This has resulted in our retaining the services of Mr. Brian Smith of Harvest Development, Jacksonville FL, on a part-time basis. Mr. Smith's first task was to survey members and supporters, gathering information from which he is now drawing up a formal Case for Support. We anticipate his significantly stepping up our fundraising efforts during the coming year, so your staff can return to concentrating on their primary technical duties.

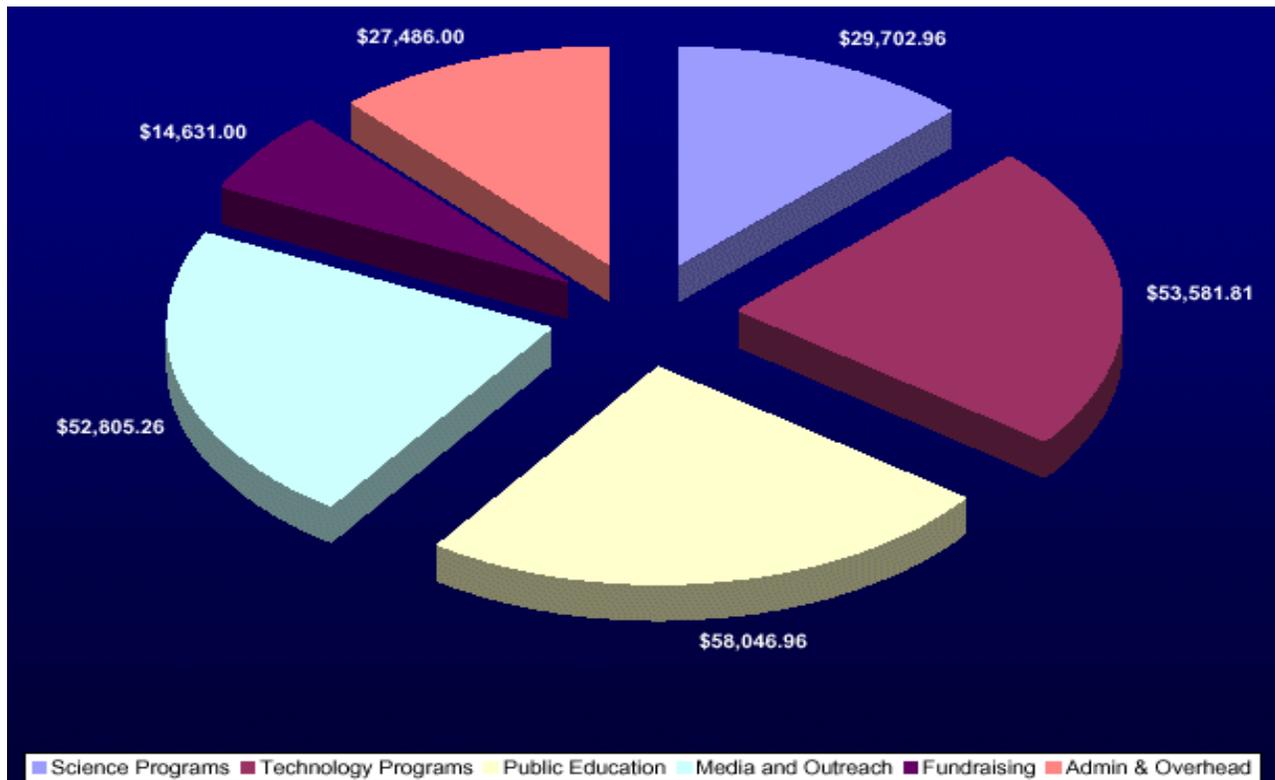

In the pages of this, our first formal Annual Report, you will find details of our successes with regard to The SETI League's educational, scientific, technological and outreach programs. We thank you for your interest, enthusiasm, and generous support of our global mission.

Yours for SETI Success,
H. Paul Shuch, Ph.D.

Financial Highlights

2002 Revenues

2002 Expenses

Program Service Accomplishments – Science

During 2002, The SETI League and its members made the following contributions to direct scientific research and observation:

- Coordinated 119 Project Argus radio telescopes in 22 countries, built and operated by volunteers, logging in excess of 100,000 hours of astrophysical observations.
- Operated W2ETI Moonbounce Beacon, providing 2160 hours of free microwave calibration signals to the world's amateur and professional radio telescopes.
- Provided Committee participation, webmastering, and web hosting services to the SETI Permanent Study Group of the International Academy of Astronautics.
- 228 members contributed more than 100 years of processing time to the SETI@home distributed computing experiment.

Operating under the amateur radio callsign W2ETI, antennas of The SETI League's 1296 MHz Lunar Reflective Calibration Beacon track the Moon twelve hours a day, under computer control, reflecting microwave signals off the surface of the Moon to provide precise calibration signals for the world's amateur and professional radio telescopes.

Program Service Accomplishments – Technology

During 2002, The SETI League and its members made the following contributions to technology design and development:

- Completed Phase 1, Physical Structures, of the Very Small Array radio telescope prototype.
- Filed US Patent Application #20020063657, Adaptive Microwave Antenna Array.
- Coordinated and archived four closed technical email lists.
- Inducted eight amateur radio astronomers into the Extra-Terrestrial Century Club.

Built behind our Executive Director's home in central Pennsylvania, the Very Small Array, a prototype for future radio telescopes, underwent preliminary testing throughout the winter of 2002.

Program Service Accomplishments – Public Education

During 2002, The SETI League and its members made the following contributions to educating the public on SETI science and technology:

- Conducted SETICon02, The SETI League's second annual Technical Symposium, and published extensive Proceedings.
- Distributed over 100 copies of "Tune In The Universe!", a radio amateur's guide to the Search for Extra-Terrestrial Intelligence.
- SETI League personnel delivered over 30 public lectures on radio astronomy techniques and related SETI science.
- Published more than a dozen technical articles in the popular and scientific press.
- Launched "Contact In Context," a new Web-based peer-reviewed SETI journal.
- Provided webmastering services to the Society of Amateur Radio Astronomers.

Program Service Accomplishments – Media and Outreach

During 2002, The SETI League and its members engaged in the following media and outreach activities:

- Published four issues of SearchLites, the quarterly newsletter of The SETI League, Inc.
- Coordinated and archived two open public email lists.
- Distributed eleven Press Releases and twelve Editorials to over 700 media outlets worldwide.
- Filed 52 weekly updates to The SETI League's extensive website, bringing its total document count to over 2500 pages.
- 63 volunteer Regional Coordinators in 50 countries conducted more than 100 print and broadcast media briefings and interviews.
- Executive Director performed SETI-related concerts at six different conventions and professional meetings in four countries.
- Presented the eighth annual Giordano Bruno Memorial Award, the first annual Orville N. Greene Service Award, and twelve SETI SuperStar Awards.

Grant History

During 2002 The SETI League, Inc. achieved mixed success in applying for grant funding to support our various educational and scientific projects. We prepared and submitted four competitive grant applications to outside agencies, from which one grant was awarded, and three rejected. The denial letters cited no fundamental flaws in our research proposals, reflecting instead on overall economic conditions. The following two documents are representative of both our successes and our failures to attract outside grant funding in the present difficult financial climate.

Little Ferry, NJ 07643

Dear Ms. Woods:

On behalf of the Officers and Directors of the ARRL Foundation, Inc., I am happy to inform you that your request for a Grant has been approved. A check for $3000 from the General Fund will be mailed to you shortly, following the receipt of evidence of dollar-for-dollar co-funding for the project to the level of this grant.

Please respond with the exact name of the project that the check should be made out to. Also, your email address would be most helpful.

We wish to publicize your project in QST or on ARRL Web and ask that, if possible, you provide a write-up, with original photos, within 60 days of receiving your grant.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call me at 860-594-0230 or email: n1vh@arrl.org

We wish you every success with your project!

Sincerely & 73,

Mary E. Lau, N1VH

Dear Dr. ^{Paul} Shuch:

I regret to inform you that your proposal to the Small Research Grant Program of the American Astronomical Society was not approved at the last meeting of the Proposal Review Committee. The Committee faced some very difficult choices. Many fine proposals were submitted for consideration, however, it was not possible to support all of them.

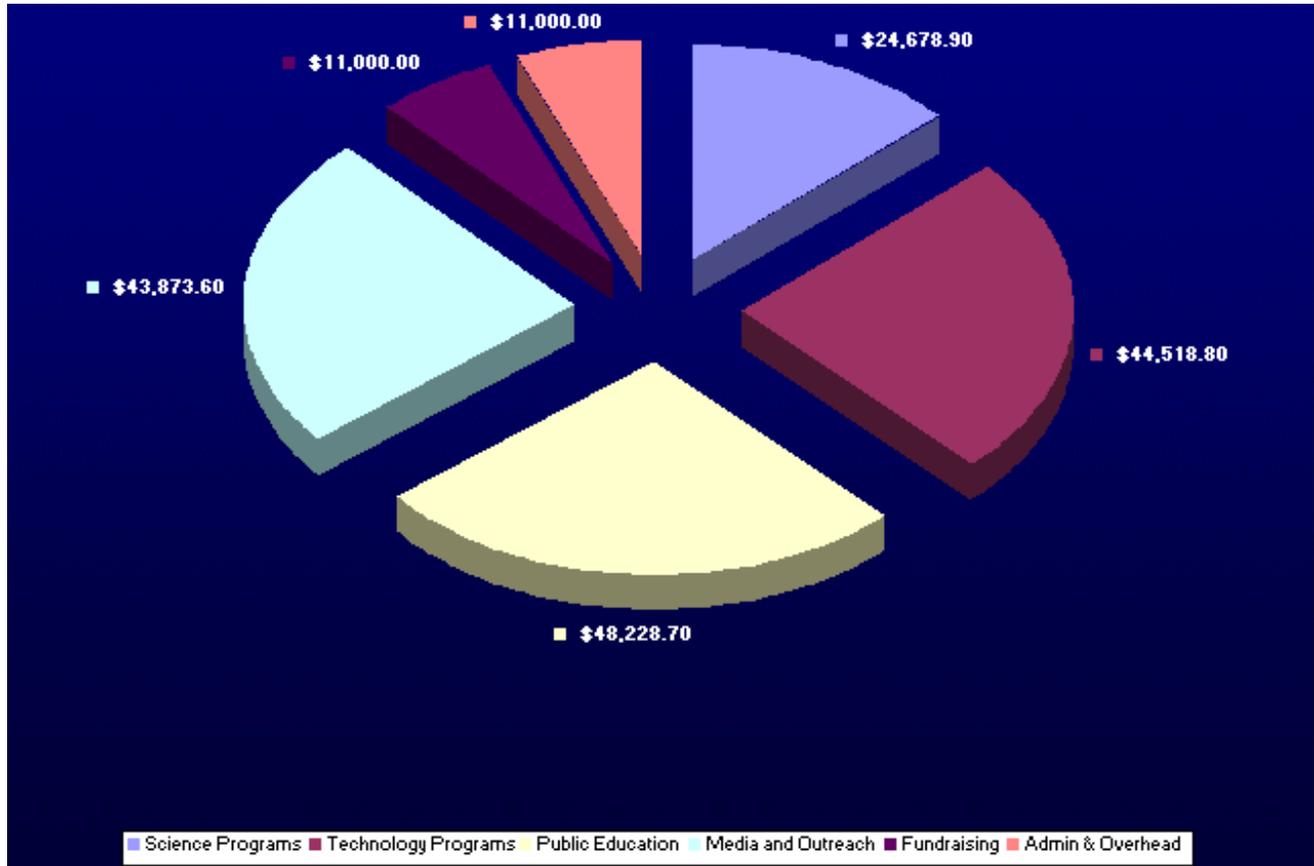

Thank you for your interest in the Small Research Grant Program. If you have any questions or comments, please feel free to contact me (after July 15, 2002).

Sincerely,

Kevin B. Marvel

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

May 23, 2003

Board of Directors and Trustees
The SETI League, Inc.
433 Liberty Street
Little Ferry, NJ 07643

We have audited the accompanying statements of assets, liabilities and net assets - cash basis of The SETI League, Inc. (a nonprofit organization) as of December 31, 2002 and 2001 and the related statements of support, revenue and expenses - cash basis for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As described in Note 1b, these financial statements were prepared on a cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the assets, liabilities and net assets of The SETI League, Inc. as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and its support, revenue and expenses for the years then ended, on the basis of accounting described in Note 1b.

Notes to the Audited Financial Statements

THE SETI LEAGUE, INC.
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2002 AND 2001

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Nature of operations

The SETI League, Inc. (the Organization) sponsors astronomical research, education, lectures and events in the search for evidence of extra-terrestrial intelligence.

b. Basis of accounting

The Organization's policy is to prepare its financial statements on the cash basis of accounting.

c. Cash and cash equivalents

The Organization considers all highly liquid investments to be cash equivalents.

d. Support and revenue

The Organization is primarily supported by donor contributions and grants. During the years presented, more than 90% of total contributions were received from three major donors.

Contributions and grants received are reported as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted support, depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions. Contributions that are restricted by the donor are reported as increases in unrestricted net assets if the restrictions expire in the same year in which the contributions are recognized.

e. Income taxes

The Organization is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Organization has no unrelated business income and accordingly the financial statements include no provision for income taxes.

Change in Accountants

The SETI League, Inc. is a Nonprofit Educational and Scientific Corporation registered in the State of New Jersey. From its inception in 1994 through 2001, The SETI League has retained the accounting firm of Brand Sonnenschine LLP, New York, NY, to prepare its annual IRS Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax. Because we now have revenues in excess of $100,000 US per year, we have been required since 1999 to submit to the State of New Jersey, Division of Consumer Affairs, Charitable Registration and Investigation Section, an annual independent financial audit.

The Treasurer of The SETI League, Martin Schreiber CPA, being an employee of Brand Sonnenschine LLP, it would be considered a conflict of interest for that firm to perform our required annual audit. Upon the recommendation of Mr. Schreiber, The SETI League retained the services of Mr. A. J. Goldberger, CPA, of Brooklyn NY, to perform an independent audit of our 1999 Financial Statements. No audit was required by the State of New Jersey for the year 2000.

Mr. Goldberger having subsequently retired from the practice of accounting, The SETI League retained the accounting firm of William R. Hoffman, Ltd., Williamsport PA, to perform an independent audit of our 2001 Financial Statements.

Because it is both cost-effective and efficient to have the required Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax and the annual Independent Financial Audit performed concurrently, the Board of Trustees of The SETI League, Inc. at its Annual Meeting in April 2002, authorized its Executive Director to retain the services of the William R. Hoffman, Ltd. Accounting firm to prepare both documents for the 2002 tax year. Since no employee of William R. Hoffman, Ltd. is in any way affiliated with The SETI League, Inc., it is the opinion of SETI League treasurer Mr. Schreiber that such activity in no way constitutes a conflict of interest. Thus, it is anticipated that the accounting firm of William R. Hoffman, Ltd. will continue to serve as both Accountants to, and independent auditors for, The SETI League, Inc, until further notice.
